

the cu·ri·os·i·ty
Books & Curiosities shop

622 Franklin Street
Pella, IA 50219
641-619-5819
www.pellacuriosityshop.com

Dear Author,

Congratulations on your book and thank you for your interest in placing it at The Curiosity Shop!

If your book has been published by an established publisher, we will purchase it directly from the publisher or wholesaler. If you are interested in having The Curiosity Shop carry your book, please fill out the book submission form.

If your book is self-published, not readily available through our normal wholesalers, or is only available on a non-returnable basis, we offer you the opportunity to sell it on a consignment basis. On consignment, the book remains the property of the consignor until sold. If you would like your book considered for stock, please follow our consignment guidelines:

- To submit a book for consideration, please fill out the book submission form. We are unable to accommodate walk-ins or telephone inquiries due to the high level of inquiries we receive. Books brought or sent to the store without being requested by The Curiosity Shop are considered free review copies and become property of The Curiosity Shop.
- In keeping with our general inventory, only books published with a printed and bound spine and displaying an International Standard Book Number (ISBN) will be considered. For consignors able to meet these conditions, our normal terms are the publishing industry standard of 60/40, i.e., we take a 40% discount.
- At this time there are no fees associated with consignment accounts. The Curiosity Shop reserves the right to charge a fee in the future to pay for extra labor involved in tracking inventory and payments for each title.
- The review process can take several weeks. We will notify you by email of our decision. The decision made by our staff is final.

Again, congratulations! As a local independent bookstore, The Curiosity Shop is proud to support new and local authors. We do our best to provide shelf space for consignment books, while still keeping in mind our inventory needs and the interests of our customers. We look forward to reviewing your work and thank you for your interest in The Curiosity Shop.

Sincerely,

The Curiosity Shop